

Kill it

Use a suitable method to eradicate weeds in your garden.

Know what weeds you are dealing with and the control methods that work on those weeds. Options include hand pulling, cutting and treating stumps and spraying. Seek advice from your local regional council plant pest officers.

Start small and work in stages, replacing weeds with eco-friendly alternatives as you go. If you have only limited time, prioritise your efforts based on the seriousness of the weed problem and the invasive nature of the plant.

Check regularly that the work you have done has been effective. Repeat efforts may be necessary to completely eradicate a weed.

Make your place a weed-free space
